

Australian Flexible Learning Framework

supporting e-learning opportunities

E-learning Coordinators

The Australian Flexible Learning Framework (Framework) E-learning Coordinators are available in every state and territory. They provide VET practitioners and providers, who are interested in e-learning, with advice and support through a range of Framework products, resources and support networks.

Examples of how we do it...

Provide

support and advice by telephone and email to RTOs who are planning for, or implementing, e-learning.

Refer

regularly to the extensive range of resources, information and networking capability of the Framework website and publications.

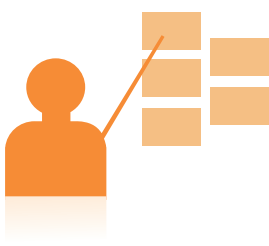

Visit

regional and metropolitan RTOs to provide support, advice and professional development on embedding e-learning.

Attend

and provide support at staff professional development days for training organisations.

Present

e-learning information sessions at education, career and community group conferences.

Enter

Develop

a process for promoting e-learning professional development opportunities including state and national events.

Organise

and deliver virtual presentations covering a range of e-learning topics.

Create

and maintain a mailing list to promote e-learning events.
